

DOMINIQUE RAGE APPOINTED SENIOR ADVISOR
WITHIN THE KEPLER FIRM.

Paris, June 12, 2020 – KEPLER, a consulting firm specialized in the optimization of operational performance, is pleased to announce the arrival of Dominique RAGE as Senior Advisor.

Dominique Rage is a graduate of Ecole Centrale Paris, the National School of Chemistry of Mulhouse, and of the Marketing Executive program at Columbia (New York USA). He also recently graduated as a board member of Political Sciences Paris-IFA.

Dominique began his career in 1983 with the Rhône-Poulenc Chemical Group where he held several positions as Manager in Process & Production, Sales & Marketing, Planning & Strategy.

After an expatriation experience in the USA as Market Manager in Specialty Chemicals, he was appointed upon his return to France as Total Quality Director for the Group, Innovation Director, President of the Polyamide Intermediates Business Unit and then of the Aroma Performance Global Business Unit within the Rhodia and Solvay Groups.

In 2019, Dominique created his own consulting company Eregis and joined KEPLER as Senior Advisor in order to share his extensive experience and sector expertise, particularly in the field of management and strategy.

« We are very pleased to be working with Dominique, who will bring to KEPLER's teams and clients his operational experience as a company manager in France and abroad. He will strengthen our expertise in the Chemical industry and help us to deploy all of KEPLER's offers in this key sector. »

- Julien BESSE, Associate Director of KEPLER.
